Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0654864A1] An electrical installation equipment (1) of modular construction, for example a plug socket, switch or pushbutton (momentary-contact switch), parts for additional functions being designed as plug-in modules (3) which can be plugged on or plugged in. It is intended that electrical contact can be made with the plug-in modules (3) for additional functions by making sprung contact (sprung contacts (4), sprung pin receptacle (23)) with live parts which are present anyway. <IMAGE>
