Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0665167A1] The box (40), formed from a single folded sheet, comprises an external prismatic casing (42) having four sides. A fixing band (52) connected to the fourth side is fixed onto the internal face of the first side. A case (54) is located inside the casing for wedging an object, having three walls spaced from the corresponding sides of the casing. The first of these walls is joined to the fixing band. A second fixing band (62) is joined to the third side of the case and is fixed on the internal face of the first side of the casing. A fixing flap (64) for the case is cut from the part of the sheet forming the case, which is fixed on the internal face of a facing side of the casing. A strut (64b) connects the fixing flap to the case and holds it at a distance from the casing side.
