Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0669433A2] The support structure for the awning has a support tube (11) fixable on a wall or roof and with two extending arms for the canvas. The support tube (11) has a triangular cross-section. The arms (11a) of the support tube can run perpendicular to each other. The support tube can be mounted between the awning shaft (13) and the wall (20). The base of the triangular cross-section faces the canvas shaft (13) and extends tangentially to this or parallel to a tangent to the shaft. The support tube is preferably a hollow section.
