Abstract (en)
The ski boot has a lower part (1) comprising the sole and surrounding the foot and heel. An ankle, pivoted on the lower part, is formed from a front part in the shape of a collar (7) with a fastening buckle (13). At the rear a rounded indentation (14) extending above the heel between the pivot points (8) of the front allows large tipping to the rear of the front part. A rear part (17) is also pivoted relative to the boot front in two opposite points (20), so as to tip rearwards and cover the indentation in the front part, in the closed position. The boot has a fastener (24) for the rear part. The upper edge of the back of the front part of the ankle is also indented (15) to leave a bridge (16) located at mid-height of the ankle. The rear part of the ankle extends all round the height of the heel so that its upper part forms a support for the leg.
