Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0671497A2] The roller for processing textiles, with a pliable mantle surface such as of wood, has an outer surface free of mountings and wholly enclosed through a number of tube crown segment bars (5,5') with radial and axial cuts to lock together. They are held by a number of holders (13) at the roller carrier (3) body so that their inner mantle surfaces are locked immovably in a shaped fit.
