Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0673849A1] The guarantee sealing-strip (10) is divided by at least two slits into at least two segments. At least one connecting element (9,9a) of varying resistance is positioned on each side of each slit which runs parallel to the lengthwise axis of the thread (3). The connecting element (11) on the guarantee strip is in the form of a barb pointing axially towards the closure piece of the tube.
