Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0679790A1] The L-section angle trim (2) is fitted over the edge of the opening up both sides and over the top of the opening. The trim replaces the rendering and has a similar depth. Trim strips (4) at the edges of the section secure the section in place using masonry fasteners. One trim strip is secured between the fixed frame and the wall while the outer edge trim is secured in the outer rendering. Fitting holes in the hollow profile section can be covered with trim strips. The section is extruded in long lengths and is cut to length to fit the door/window opening. It is shaped to replace the rendering. <IMAGE>
