Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0683099A1] The bag pile feeder has a number of tray-form carriers (5) which are provided with a holder (16) and detachably connected to the feeder (8). Each carrier, with a pile of bags, before connecting with the feeder, is moved out from a storage transporter (3) containing several carriers. Each of the carriers is withdrawn after bag piling and introduced into another storage transporter (12). The storage transporters contain several magazines in which several carriers are accommodated. <IMAGE>
