Abstract (en)

The affixing of a banderole to the periphery of a rotating, shaped cheese is carried out while maintaining an essentially constant peripheral speed of the momentary position of the cheese relative to a banderole strip to be affixed, by determining the peripheral speed of the cheese at a point along the periphery of the cheese and regulating the speed of rotation of the cheese on the basis thereof. This means that uniform affixing of the banderole strip can be achieved on all shapes of cheeses, in particular polygonal cheeses. <IMAGE>
