Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0684185A1] The container has a base (2), a front and a back wall, foldable side walls and a lid. The base, in the area of the side walls has an arm (21) which is arranged vertical to the plane of the base. The arm protrudes all around vertically from the base to a height double the thickness of the folding side walls and the single thickness of the front and back walls. The arm has notches (24) spaced apart near the side walls and front wall and into which fit matching protuberances (43) from the plane (13) of the bottom cross-sectional surface of the side walls and front wall. The notches are cross-sectional recesses in the free edge of the arm.
