Abstract (en)

A furniture hinge is provided with fastening elements to fasten it to one part of the furniture unit (19); said elements consist of at least one expansion plug (20) radially expandable by rotation therein of a pin (25) inserted into its axial housing (24) and rotatable between a first position of non-expansion of the expansion plug (20) for its insertion into a hole (23) in the furniture unit and a second position of expansion of the expansion plug for its anchorage in the hole. The pin (25) of the expansion plug (20) is provided with a head which extends into a control tab (27) protruding radially to the axis of the pin itself.
