Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0685424A1] The platform has two lifting devices (10) upon each of which are fastened two extension arms (9) pivoting around a vertical guide tube (7) and designed to support the vehicle. Two running wheels (13) are located close to the lifting devices. A towing bar (15) can be connected to the vehicle and vertically adjustable support rollers (6) are provided on both longitudinal sides of the lifting platform. The axles of the rollers are arranged in the direction of travel. <IMAGE>
