Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0686361A1] The case has a multi-part operable structure (10) on an upper narrow side provided with a carrying grip (23). The one wall section (13) incorporates the carrying grip and the other (14) located on the outside when the case is closed has a single central elongated through aperture (26) for the carrying grip and at least one closure part. As closure parts in the area of the single through aperture paired securing stops (25) working in conjunction with one another are provided. One of the stops is arranged or formed on the exterior wall section (14) on the open side of the case and the other on the interior wall section (13). <IMAGE>
