Abstract (en)
The device has a head (20) with two telescopically extending retaining arms (38) and which is fixable on the top edge of the music stand. Each arm has at its free end a clamping element (42) to secure the sheet (52). The arms can be mounted on the top (20) to swivel about a vertical axis. A pair of fork-type holding members can protrude to one side from the top. Each holding member comprises two parallel superposed horizontal plates in which are formed two coaxial bearing seats for rotatably holding the vertical axis of the relevant retaining arm. <IMAGE>
