Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9421523A1] The invention concerns a twice-usable envelope made from a single-piece blank of paper, cardboard or plastic sheeting divided by a fold line into a front (3) and a back (4) which, when folded together, form a container. The container is held together by side tabs (9, 10) folding about additional fold lines in the blank and is closed by a gummed closure flap (12) which can be folded about another fold line. The tabs (9, 10) are designed so that they overlap when folded over about the fold lines (7, 8) against the front (3) of the envelope. Located on each side of the end (18) of the closure flap (12) is a gummed strip (19, 20).
