Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0695528A2] The support, esp. for cigarette packets, has a main frame (1) accommodating several supporting units (2, 3) one behind the other. Each of these contains several shafts (34) alongside each other, and in which the packets (40) are stacked one above the other. The units (3) behind the front one (2) each slide between a working position and a filling one below it. In the first position, the lowermost packet (41) is extracted from the front. In the second and filling position, the shafts are loaded with packets (40) from the front. The front unit (2) can also slide in the frame between the working position and the filling one below it. In the working position its top part is covered at the front by a baffle on the frame.
