Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0695696A1] The container/dispenser is made with a deformable wall and two separate compartments (4,4') for different liquids or fluids, connected to one dispensing head. The container is oval in shape, with the two compartments formed in the ends of the oval and a deformable free space (5) between them. The container is made from an elastically deformable material, translucent or semi-translucent, with the free space deformed under manual pressure. Air escapes through a hole provided for the purpose.
