Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9425291A1] The invention relates to a letter file with a file spine (10), front and back covers (12) made of stiff cardboard material and hinged to the file spine, and a filing mechanism (16) detachably mounted with a base plate (18) on the inner side of the back cover (12). To provide for a detachable attachment of the filing mechanism (16) to the back cover (12), the invention proposes that at least one oblong snap-in ring (34) is set in a perforation (38) in the back cover (12) with at least one locking surface (42) directed toward the interior of the ring (34) for a locking element (32', 32'') mounted on the base plate (18).
