Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0697184A1] A body support arrangement comprising a sleeping surface lying on at least one water filled tube (14, 15) extending along the longitudinal sides of the frame. The sleeping surface (10) is arranged to provide a free space (20) therein at a selected distance from the longitudinal ends of the arrangement such that when a person is lying on the sleeping surface, said free space allows the shoulder girdle of the user's body to sink down. <MATH>
