Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0699398A2] The garment is made from an outer cloth (1) and an inner lining (2) with the joint provided by a special insert strip (9) sewn to both layers. An overlapping section of the lining covers a sliding clasp fastener (3) by which the removable sections are attached. The coupling strip is made of a waterproof, porous material. The sliding clasp fastener is sewn to the insert strip by one seam (7). The inner- and outer layers are joined to the insert strip by second (15) and third (14) seams. The bottom of the insert strip is linked to the bottom edge of the outer layer by a weld seam (12a) for a simple construction.
