Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9428988A1] Card for controlling results defined by checking or shadowing the compartments of a grid. The control card (2) comprises two sheets (3 and 4), one of which is reversibly bonded to the other, including removable portions (6) which are distributed in an array superimposable over the grid array in order to check rapidly whether the selected results and the correct results coincide. The two sheets of the invention are slit, for each portion, along edges (7 and 8) forming prescored lines that may or may not be partially superimposed on each other. The invention is useful for the rapid reading of games of chance or betting coupons.
