Abstract (en)
The hair loop (8) of the hairstyle shaper is limited by a first clamp ring (7), which is displaceably arranged on the hair band (2). The hair band has two sections (4,5), one of which at least has a through passage aperture for insertion of the other hair band section. The hair band sections are arranged on both sides of the hair loop. The through passage apertures are formed as loops. The hair loop is limited by the first and a second (6) clamp ring. The second clamp ring is fixed to the hair band. The hair band is formed as an endless ring, the periphery of which amounts to between 8 cm and 12 cm. It has at least one plastically deformable core.
