Abstract (en)
A receptacle made of a flexible and waterproof material, for instance a ball (1), that is stuffed with powdered and non-poisonous matter (2), say flour. The flexible receptacle is sealed tightly at the mouth by certain means (3) to yield a shapeless body, malleable upon hand manipulation. The invention is useful for making doll's heads that allow their configuration to be changed in shape by hand manipulation to model different heads.
