Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0713664A1] The system comprises two or more stands (1) which are detachable from each other, each having a frame with profiled metal members and a division or compartment (15,16) accommodating the prints or pictures in large numbers. The frames (2) of the stands are identical, but the compartments differ from each other. Each frame can be in two side sections (3), each of four or more members (4-7), and including between them an acute angle open towards the top. Cross-members join the side sections to each other.
