Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0713937A1] The domestic laundry iron, with or without a steamer, has a sole (1) of one material (5) with a low friction coefficient at least at the inner surface zone, with resistance to wear, giving a good sliding and cleaning action. A second material (6) covers at least part of the contour (4c), to form an edge which is a buffer against impact. The sole material (5) is an Al or Ti alloy, and the second material (6) is of stainless steel or ceramics.
