Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9522386A1] An ornament of the invention comprises a pedestal section (2) having a power unit (3), and a figure body (4) which is provided on the pedestal section (2) and is in the shape of a doll or the like. The figure body (4) comprises a stationary portion (98) detachably mounted on the pedestal section (2), and various movable portions (99) provided to enable various movements relative to the stationary portion (98). When the figure body (4) is mounted on the pedestal section (2), the power unit (3) can transmit power to the movable portions (99). Thus when the power unit (3) is actuated, the figure body (4) performs motions which are full of expression and will keep a viewer interested. Also, the figure body (4) is detachable relative to the pedestal section (2), so that the figure body (4) can be arbitrarily changed in combination. Accordingly, it is possible to accommodate diversification and attain cost reduction.
