Abstract (en)

A front baby carrier comprises a harness (10) to be worn by an adult user and a detachable seat (20) attachable to the front of the harness by front connecting devices (31, 32) with its front facing either toward or away from the user, whereby a baby can be seated in the seat in front of the user facing either toward or away from the user. A front-or-back baby carrier further comprises back connecting devices (34, 35) for attaching the seat to the back of the harness with its front facing either toward or away from the user, whereby a baby can be seated in the seat either in front or in back of the user facing either toward or away from the user. <IMAGE>
