Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0724057A1] The neck (14) of the grip head (12) is mounted on a box or cap shaped round anchor plate (20) fixed to the screwing surface of a frame. The anchor plate forms a guide bushing (24) for the neck which is connected to a bolt (26) with laterally swivelling arm (27) inside the anchor plate. A support (30) resting on the screwing surface in the anchor plate has a contact surface (35) for the bolt, and a hole (32) for the guide bushing. The support is in the form of a rectangular steel plate which has an angled thrust piece (36) for a side surface on one longitudinal side for a bolt part.
