Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0724917A1] An arrangement for cleaning the inner wall of a wine barrel, comprises a supply line for water, ≥ 1 water outlet nozzle which can be rotated about a second axis which is at an angle to a primary axis and a suction line. The rotational impulse of the nozzle (76,78) rotating about the second axis (62) and turning about the first axis (52), is different to the outlet channel position, so the nozzle has a rotational movement about the primary axis which is $> 200^\circ$.
