Abstract (en)
[origin: FR2685170A1] Close-fitting garments, particularly diving suits and related footwear and gloves, are described. More generally, all kinds of garments that are so tight-fitting as to make dressing and undressing awkward are described. Therefore, a tight-fitting garment such as an item of sportswear, in particular a diving suit, including an outer layer (1) of a material having adhesive properties, is provided. Said tight-fitting garment interacts with a film (2) of non porous material which is applied onto at least part of the internal surface thereof and has local openings or holes (23).
