Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9409979A1] A bag (1) which is produced from a substantially endless film (37) which is formed, while filling in goods, into closed individual bags (1) provided with an overlapping joint (11). The overlapping joint (11) consists of two overlapping edge areas (13, 15) between which an adhesive (25) is applied which is sensitive to pressure. The overlapping edge areas may be separated and reclosed so that a partial emptying of the bag is possible followed by airtight reclosure of the overlapping joint. The bag is particularly well suited for use in packing machines of the so-called VFFS type.
