Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0727637A1] The barrel rail (2) is for a firearm esp. a rifle and is made of a material whose thermal conductivity is distinctly poorer than the barrel (4). The rail consists entirely or partly of plastics, partic. thermosetting plastics. One or more reinforcing pieces are integrated into the plastics and are in the form of glass fibres. Recesses (8) are provided between the rail and the barrel.
