Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0728670A1] The cover part (18,22) is a separate part from the base (20) and cover (16). Several tab parts are fixed to the cover part, on which the base or the cover can be fitted. The cover part has a locking device holding its two ends opposed to each other. At one end of the cover part a first tab is available extending over a bending edge. At the other end of the cover part a second tab extends over a bending edge, at the free extending end of which via a further bending edge a tongue piece is fixed. The first tab can be folded around on the cover part.
