Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0729899A1] The container consists of an outer cover made from two panels hinged to a spine, and an inner plastics liner (2) moulded to form two rectangular housings which fit one inside the other when the cover is closed. The two housings (6, 7) are of the same depth, one (6) forming a base and the other (7) a lid which fits over it and makes a firm contact with it to keep out dust and provide sufficient friction to hold them together in the closed position. The base of the housing has notches (21) in two opposite edges to facilitate the removal of its contents.
