Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0732271A1] The container has a screw cap (2) with stop apertures (19) at the bottom edge, which correspond with a stop shoulder on the container neck. The screw cap wall has openings (23) etc., which weaken the wall. These are located approx. above each stop aperture. The openings are slot-shaped, and circumferentially overlap the stop apertures. The part of the lower screw cap edge (18), which first engages on the top of the stop shoulder, is inclined in direction of the thread pitch.
