Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0737432A2] Each hook (1) consists of a U-shaped part (20) shaped from flat material and gripping round the flat oval shape of the support bar. A hook arm (10) is joined to the U-shaped part. The U-shaped bracket part consists of a bottom half curve (21) with a free end (22) and a top curve (27) leading to the arm. A fitment (11) on the hook arm is positioned over the half curve and, together with the free end and the fitment, forms an access opening (2). The support bar consists of two spaced apart convex walls (32) or two parallel walls. The end (12) of the hook arm protruding into the room has an upward bent part (13).
