Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0737629A1] The attachment (1) for a container (7), for giving portions of a foam product, has a chamber (10.1) filled with at least two separate liquid products (4, 5) divided into sectors. The liquid products have a consistency where they cannot mix together. An outlet channel (14.1-14.3) is provided for each product. The container (2, 2.1) contains a gas under pressure. The liquid products are contained in at least two chambers next to the passage flow tube, each with a passage channel and an outflow channel.
