Abstract (en)

[origin: US5730023A] In a dent removal hammer for repairing dented metal panels, a hardened impact head with an operating rod is movably disposed in a hollow cylinder which has an anvil cylinder mounted on its front end and an anvil sleeve mounted at its rear end, with the operating rod extending through the anvil sleeve and having at its free end outside the hollow cylinder a handle for actuating the impact head so as to impact onto the anvil cylinder or the anvil sleeve for transmitting forward or backward impact forces to an anvil inset attachment mounted on the anvil cylinder.
