Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9520201A1] A payout apparatus (10) comprises a plurality of supply means (12) and a common delivery means (14), each of the supply means (12) being replaceable as a result of having a releasable connection such as a snap-in fastener (84), and the delivery means (14) including a ratchet mechanism (40) which, with movement relatively to a supply means (12) in one direction, does not cause a payout but, with movement relatively to the supply means (12) in the opposite direction, does cause a payout.
