Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0741039A2] A vacuum system is usable with an ink jet printer, the printer having an access door. The vacuum system comprises an ink reservoir, wherein a vacuum is supplied to the ink reservoir. A user replaceable mist filter is situated within the access door of the printer for capturing ink mist from the ink reservoir. The location of the mist filter makes the mist filter easily accessible, removable and replaceable. <IMAGE>
