Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9520524A1] Article convertible into a box or tray comprising, when forming a tray, a rectangular base (10, 12) having two end flaps (16) and two lateral walls. The rectangular base includes two joints (14) delimiting a central portion (10) and two lateral portions (12), the joints (14) being parallel to the flaps and forming, within the opposing lateral walls, projections (20) each delimiting a gusset (22) and a portion (18') extending up to the upper surface of the article in a closed position. The article of the invention is suitable for packaging, for use as a litter for domestic animals as well as a tray for mixing products.
