Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0743022A2] The cycle helmet is assembled by the vendor from a selection of inner padding shells (28) and separate outer shells (14) to match particular sizes and selection of outer shell patterns. The outer shell is located onto a lipped outer profile (26) of the padding and is secured by adhesive eg. double sided adhesive tape (22). An adjustable head band is fitted to the inner padding to provide for a range of fittings and to ensure a snug fit. The head band is secured by a ratchet grip or by press fit profiled tape.
