Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0745340A1] The padded unit (1) is fitted at least on the side facing the rucksack wearer. It has an air-permeable protective layer (4) preventing threads or wires (7) from the plaited matting (2) and or acute-angled pieces from penetrating the protective layer to the side of the rucksack wearer. The protective layer has an air-permeable first side facing the plaited matting. There is an air-permeable second side (41) facing away from the plaited matting, and there are support bars (43) keeping the first and second side apart.
