Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0747561A2] An angle (5) which fits in the roller blind box has an arm (6) vertical in the usage position which can be mounted on the inside of the roller blind box wall (3a) facing the room interior. Its arm (7) running horizontally in the usage position is connectable with the upper horizontal frame arm of the window frame (2) and in the usage position runs over the installation opening (9) of the roller blind box (3) closable by a cover (8). The horizontal arm of the angle comprises two releasably connected parts and after release of the connection can be moved at least partly out of the area of the roller blind box opening. The horizontal arm has a flap part (7a) pivotable in relation to the vertical arm and a stop part extending it which can be fitted on the window frame.
