Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0748980A2] The lighting system for a stage, such as for drama and opera performances, uses a stage flooring surface (2) of a material which is transparent to light (8). The lamps (7) can be adjusted to direct their light beams for the illumination of specified objects. In the space (4) below the stage (2), one or more adjustable floor mirrors (5) and/or side wall mirrors (6) reflect the light (8) from the lamps into the stage area (3). The stage (2) material is glass or a transparent plastics, such as Plexiglass (RTM).
