Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0750091A1] The frame is used for a window blind with fixed slats. In order to secure the slats (3) in the slots (2), the slots have projections (4) on their long sides. The projections are made in the shape of pinheads. In order to balance out the initial distribution of the slats for different window heights the lower frame section (6) of the frame (1) has an upright attachment piece (5).
