Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0756060A1] One edge of the frame, parallel to its longitudinal direction, has a cover (8) resting against the pane. The frame is joined by a fixture (1) to a transverse arm. The fixture pin (2) fits into a hole in the cover. A tie piece fitting into a cavity in the frame prevents the fixture slipping towards the pin axis. The part of the outside of the fixture facing away from the transverse arm is rotationally symmetrical with the pin axis (4). The end of the pin is fixed into a bolt (3) rotatably positioned on the pin axis in the fixture.
