Abstract (en)

[origin: DE4416584A1] To ensure that the pressed bales are properly cored, in a process for operating a bale press and a bale press for producing wired bales, especially of foil or foil-like waste, the press strokes are made over the extent of the wiring position (A) to a pressing position (B) with an over-stroke (A-B), a suitable length of wire (9) is drawn off and looped, whereafter the pressed bale is expanded in the wire loop with the press ram withdrawn into the wiring position and finally wired in the wiring position (A).
