Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9634724A1] The invention relates to a device for handling printed products (10) for edge-cutting using a cutter (50, 60). For this purpose, the printed products (10) are taken to the cutter (50, 60) by means of grips (22) circulating along a first conveyor loop (20) and the edge region of the printed products (10) in the grips (22) to be cut is stabilised by means of clamps (40) which can be applied in the region of the cutter (50, 60). After the edge has been cut, the printed products (10) are removed from the clamps (40) by the grips (22) and taken away.
