Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9600045A1] Reusable protective drapes for use in operations made of two fabric sheets placed on top of each other with a plastic film or other impervious sheet placed between these sheets. The fabric sheets are made with a cut in the fabric allowing the plastic film to stick out beyond the edge trimming of the cut, so the film and the sheet can be taped to the skin of the patient in a way so blood or body fluids can't pass through the sealed area.
